

Christopher Boog is a partner in Schellenberg Wittmer's Zurich and Singapore offices, a Vice-Chair of the firm's International Arbitration Practice Group and a partner in the Construction Practice Group. He has vast experience handling complex international arbitrations.

Christopher has acted as counsel and arbitrator in dozens of arbitrations, both ad hoc and institutional (including ICC, LCIA, SCC, WIPO, VIAC, DIS, Swiss Rules), involving a wide array of matters under many different laws. His areas of specialization include construction and engineering, energy (including oil & gas), infrastructure projects, commodities, as well as the pharmaceutical, automotive and mining industries. He has handled disputes involving construction, sales and purchase, joint venture, research and development, consultancy, agency, distributorship and license agreements.

Christopher is recognized for his arbitration and construction work in leading directories such as Legal 500, Expert Guides and Who's Who Legal, where he is «acclaimed» for his international arbitration work and noted for his «astute legal mind». He was shortlisted in the 'Global Rising Star of the Year' category for Euromoney's Global Arbitration Awards 2014.

Christopher regularly publishes and speaks on topics related to arbitration and teaches international arbitration at EBS Law School in Wiesbaden, Germany. He is a member of the SIAC User's Council, the YSIAC Committee, the ICC Task Force on Emergency Arbitrator Proceedings and of several professional associations, including the International, Swiss and the Zurich Bar Associations, the Swiss Arbitration Association, LCIA/YIAG, IPBA, the Singapore International Chamber of Commerce and the Swiss-Asian Chamber of Commerce. He is an Honorary Overseas Member of combar.

Christopher joined Schellenberg Wittmer in 2003 and was admitted to the bar in 2006. He graduated with honours from the Law Schools of the universities of Fribourg and Amsterdam, The Netherlands, in 2002 and obtained a PhD from the University of Zurich in 2010 (summa cum laude; Professor Walther Hug Prize). In 2008/09, Christopher was a Visiting Scholar at Columbia Law School, New York, where he conducted extensive research in the fields of international arbitration and transnational litigation.